

Adam Leitman Bailey was Guest Speaker at Fordham University Summer Law Institute

As part of the Fordham University Summer Legal Institute program, Adam Leitman Bailey participated in the Legal Outreach Talk to Students on Thursday July 19th. Mr. Bailey spoke to a group of 27 low income junior high school students who have an interest in pursuing a legal career. Mr. Bailey shared his personal history with the students on how he achieved his goals and became a successful attorney in addition to discussing the job of a real estate attorney, its importance and how it affects everyone's lives. In addition to his speech he conducted a mock trial to allow students to participate and experience what it's like to be a real estate lawyer and litigator. His inspirational presentation told valuable life lessons and gave these aspiring young minds the tools they need to be successful in their future endeavours.

