

From: [REDACTED]
Sent: Monday, May 24, 2010 7:55 PM
To: Adam Leitman Bailey
Subject: Thank You

Dear Mr. Bailey,

My name is [REDACTED] and I am a part of one of the triplets you met today during the Wall Street tour. I remember during the tour you explained to our class about your chilling experiences during 911 and the immense responsibility you held for our nation. I also recall you mentioned receiving a service award for the voluntary work your firm performed after the time of the 911 attacks. After reading the newsletter our entire class received, I was interested in reading more of your articles and so I visited the site. You mentioned not being sure whether the service award news was written on the site and so I checked the site. However, I did not see the award mentioned in the Honors and Awards section of the site, when clearly it is a great honor to receive such a prominent award.

I would also like to thank you for graciously giving up your time today in order to help our AP History class receive a better understanding of U.S. History and its landmarks. Truly it was an incredible experience; one which I will never forget. Also, now that I know the significance the community of New Milford played in American History, I will most likely be visiting New Bridge Road more often! I actually had Mr. Harrison (Hap) freshman year for Honors English. Hap told us about the many obstacles you conquered to become the successful individual you are today and I was and still am deeply inspired. Not only that, the relationship you continue to share with NMHS is another gracious gift which NMHS students will remain indebted to. Thank you for sharing your time to become a role model and inspiration for students like myself. It is a pleasure to have heard your encouraging story!

Sincerely,

[REDACTED]