

THE REAL DEAL

NYC real estate in brief

Veteran appeals attorney joins Adam Leitman Bailey

Real estate lawyer Jeffrey Metz joined the law firm Adam Leitman Bailey as the managing partner of the appellate bureau. Metz has worked in real estate law for 25 years, and previously work in the appeals bureau of the firm Borah, Goldstein, Altschuler, Nahins and Goidel. According to a release, Metz has argued more than 250 appeals. "By having Jeffrey Metz join our firm, we are one step closer to building the best real estate law firm in New York," Adam Leitman Bailey, the firm's founder, told Real Estate Weekly. "Jeffrey is our Jeter, Rodriguez and Rivera all rolled into one." TRD